Succoth - the Feast of the Tabernacles

Of the three pilgrimage holidays (Passover, The Feast of Weeks, and The Feast of the Tabernacles), the one with the most significance in the ancient world is Succoth. It was the fall harvest and the biggest market time in old Jerusalem. We learn in the Bible that it was the time of year in which the entire Torah was read publicly.

Yet, of pilgrimage holidays, this is the only one not associated with a specific event. Perhaps the tabernacle is more than a reminder of the temporary housing our ancestors had when they crossed the wilderness.

I will review and discuss Succoth during our "Live on Zoom" Sabbath Service, tonight, Friday, October 2, at 7:45 pm. Following this evening's service I invite you to join us on Zoom for our traditional, "Oneg" which during these difficult times provides an opportunity for us to spend some social time together and possibly continue to explore the meaning of Succoth.

There is a special Torah reading for Succoth:
Leviticus 22:26 - 23:44.

Please join us tonight; I look forward to seeing you.

Shabbat Shalom,

Rabbi Stan
